PROFILE

birthday 16 June 1992

Frontend Developer with 10+ years of experience building scalable, high-performance web applications using React.js, Next.js, TypeScript, and modern JavaScript. Experienced in developing complex user interfaces, reusable component systems, responsive applications, and production-ready solutions with a strong focus on performance, maintainability, and user experience.

Strong hands-on experience with state management and data-fetching solutions such as Redux Toolkit, Jotai, React Query, and modern frontend architectures. Experienced in integrating REST APIs and real-time services, implementing PWA solutions, working with maps and location-based features, and building applications within scalable and modular architectures.

Passionate about clean code, frontend architecture, performance optimization, and continuously learning new technologies to build reliable and high-quality products.
